

Nursery Holiday Homework Activities

Numbers- Count! Count!

Here are many hands on counting activities you can do with your children at home!

- Finding what's in nature, counting leaves, counting petals, counting rocks. Or look in their toy bin and sort objects and count, count, count!
- Use Dominoes to decide which chore to do. How many dots are on the Domino? Count them. That's the chore to do. -Chore List with Dominoes & Numbers
- Label bottles with numbers and ask your child to count and drop pom poms (or any small object) in.
- Make a simple grid on the sidewalk with numbers and find that many objects from nature!
- Ask a child to walk around their home to find and count all of the doors, windows, tables, beds, mirrors, sinks, etc
- Let's play hopscotch! Your child can learn to count numbers from 1 to 10 while playing hopscotch. They can have fun while being outdoors.
- Counting with beads and pipe cleaners. This is also great for fine motor development!

Name writing a

Helping your child practice writing their name gives your child the confidence to do their best in school and feel great about it. We hope you and your child enjoys the activities we've put together for you!

- Practice writing their name in a salt sensory tray!
- Get out the watercolours and trace the letters of their name with a paintbrush!
- Sandpaper Letters- Children love sensory experiences. This one helps your kids recognize that letters need to be formed in a particular order. Write their name on sandpaper. Your child needs to use yarn to form the letters of their name.
- Scramble and unscramble the letters- One of the most important skills to writing their name is recognizing it and decoding the order of the letters in their name. Practice putting letters in order from left to right with this fun name activity. Refrigerator letters and foam letters work well for this activity.
- Street Letters- Form the letters of their name in tape on the floor. Grab the bin of cars. Your kids get to drive around the letters of their name. Encourage them to move their vehicles along the roads the way they would write the letters.
- Play dough etching- Etch your child's name into play dough using a pencil. Your child can trace the lines. Then roll it flat and trace their name very softly. Your kids need to etch their name deeply following the lines you made. The tension of the dough will help develop the muscle motor control needed to

Traditional Tales Storytelling- Goldilocks and the three bears

- Listen to the story on YouTube - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=T84dax2MDPg>
- Children to identify the beginning, middle and end of the tale. This activity helps students retell the tale in their own words.

- Children to create small, medium and large bears using materials around the house. Focus on sizes.
- Children to represent the bears through creating their own teddy bear toast.
- Create your own setting of Goldilocks and the three bears with porridge oats. Now your child is ready to retell the story.
- Your child can make their own porridge for the bears in different sized bowls.
